The National Association of PhD Students (DOSz) is pleased to inform PhD students that the conference known as SPRING WIND will be organized again this year.

The Spring Wind conference will be organized by DOSz as an event in English and Hungarian language, "world meeting of young Hungarian researchers and PhD students" as it was usual in the previous years. The aim of the conference is to provide an opportunity for doctoral candidates to present their different fields of research and to discuss their opinions at this event.

Within the particular sections, it will be possible to present the scientific areas from the point of view of the theoretical and practical utilization.

After the registration on the website, a 300 words abstract has to be submitted by the participants of the conference to the following e-mail address in both Hungarian and English:

dosz@dosz.hu

For the easier communication, applicants have to provide their contact details during the registration on the website.

The organizing committee cannot accept abstracts without previous registration on the website. If you do not receive notification via e-mail about the receipt of abstracts, please contact the committee via the provided e-mail address. Each abstract will be subject of a proofreading process according to the scientific fields.

If the authors intend to publish their research also in the conference booklet, their abstract must be extended according to the formal requirements to a 2000 words scientific article by the deadline, which has to be accepted by the programme board. The scientific article has to be sent to the following e-mail address:

dosz@dosz.hu

The formal requirements are available on the website www.dosz.hu, under the menu Spring Wind.
